Thank-you Mr Leblanc, for responding to me – I'm sure that you've had a LOT of emails regarding this issue.

But your email response still has not explained a few things to me. Can you tell me:

- If this amended motion (to include energy companies) passes, how do you plan on replacing the revenue that would be lost, if the energy companies are included in this motion?
- I agree with a focus on the environment (as I said, my wife and I both drive hybrid vehicles). Do you drive a hybrid, or electric car? Are you planning on focusing the City's direction towards examining the possibility of converting the City's vehicles, or, other examples like making the buses more efficient? (In other words, what's your focus for real environmental change that is within your own personal, and Civic realm of control?)
- Have you learned anything, about this last minute motion to include the energy companies?

Again, thank-you for responding to me – it is very much appreciated

Hello 28(1),

I agree there are many pressing issues in the City, including addictions and poverty as you referenced below.

The draft policy came before Council as scheduled – I did not bring it. Once the draft policy was before us, it is our obligation to deal with it. For me, that includes ensuring that the policy includes the sustainability values which the City is committed to. Thus, the amendment.

We will continue to actively work on pressing issues, as well as ensuring any policy that comes before us is well thought-out.

Thank you for your two recent emails. Enjoy the weekend,

Dan LeBlanc

Good evening Mr Leblanc! It's now 24 hours since my first email to you, and I still have not heard a response back from you. Specifically, can you help me understand how this motion will help the City of Regina, versus focusing on what the City of Regina itself could do (see below). As well, what you yourself are doing? (Again, see below)

Your motion sounds like a personal, political agenda, and I'd encourage you to have the courage to look in the mirror and ask yourself if you're really fulfilling your elected role as a CofR councillor, or, if you're simply trying to promote your own personal political agenda.

Dear Mr Leblanc: as the councillor representing Douglas Park where I reside, it's with disappointment that I see you supporting a silly motion that advocates for limiting energy companies from sponsorship or advertising within the City of Regina.

I'm very curious as to how persons like yourself or other councillors like Mr Findura believe that this will benefit the City of Regina? Is this really something that's at the high-end of your priority lists as a councillors? I do not recall seeing this as a priority in your campaign material. What happened to your priorities that you advocated for when you were looking for the voting public to support you; for example, help for drug addicts ?

If the supposed benefit is an environmental benefit, can you explain to me how limiting sponsorship within our city will actually help the environment? If it's really about the environment, wouldn't it be more prudent to examine the many largely empty buses driving around the city, and study the how's and when's of potentially running smaller buses to benefit the environment? Or perhaps converting City of Regina vehicles to propane or electric? (BTW: both my wife and I drive hybrid vehicles; do you?)

Or, is this simply you using your position as councillor to promote your political views? If so, you need to remember who elected you, and represent them in an unbiased fashion.

I believe that there are far more pressing issues within our great city that are truly city issues. And I give our Mayor (and the other two councillors) credit for voting against a motion that has nothing to do with benefiting our city.
