Thank you.

I was able to figure it out for my household.

My daughter (lives in east Regina) also did not receive her voter information and was NOT able to locate her voting information on your website. It told her she didn't have a valid address, I used ward maps and was able to pass on the information to her. If there are any glitches at the polling station as a result, neither she nor her husband will vote.

This was the experience of two families, six voters, and I doubt we were the only ones. This could negatively affect voter turnout in future municipal elections.

Sorry you did not receive a voter information card. We will be looking into how to improve that process moving forward. For now, please visit www.electionsregina.ca and click on 'My Voting Info' tool. This will show all the information that would have been on the voter information cards such as where and when you vote.

Please note that you do not require a voter card to vote. You will fill out a voter registration form which is provided at the polls and all you will need to take with you is identification such as a drivers licence.

Thank you,
